

The screenshot shows the search results for 'cupcake' on MarthaStewart.com. At the top, there's a search bar with 'cupcake' entered and a search button. Below the search bar are navigation tabs for various categories like FOOD, ENTERTAINING, HOLIDAYS, etc. The main content area is titled 'Search Results' and shows 'Showing 1-20 of 378 Results for cupcake'. There are filters on the left for refining results by Type, Source, Date, etc. The featured content includes 'Our Favorite Cupcakes' with three image placeholders and a recipe for 'Raspberry Cupcakes with Pink Buttercream and Lacy Chocolate Hearts'. Below that is a 'Cupcakes Center Title' section with four image placeholders and a 'SHOW' section for 'April Fools' Day with Seth Meyers'. At the bottom, there's a 'HOW-TO' section for 'Spring Chick Cupcakes' and a 'RECIPE' section. The page ends with a pagination control showing '1 2 3 ... 15 Next >' and related searches.

1 A second Search box appears at the top of the filter menu. Search term persists and search button is disabled/faded out until another keyword is placed.

2 See Appendix: Filter Behavior for more details.

3 Clicking any of the Most Popular links launches a new search.

4 Number of results and search term.

5 Default sort is relevancy ("Top Matches"). Additional sorts include Newest, Most Popular, and Video (results with videos at top). Sorting will require a page reload.

6 Featured content selected by the editors may appear at the top of the search results. To implement, better to configure Drupal rather than Solr.

7 Hit highlighting appears in titles and descriptions of the search results. See Appendix: Display Rules for Data Types for more details.

8 Links to broader collections in which a content item appears are also returned.

9 Visited links are visually indicated.

10 Users may toggle between List View or Grid View.

11 Pagination controls should appear at the top and bottom of the search results page. They should work as illustrated below, where the first and last pages, current page +/- one and prev/next are always available:

1 2 3 ... 15 Next >

< Prev 1 2 3 ... 15 Next >

< Prev 1 2 3 ... 15 Next >

< Prev 1 ... 4 5 6 ... 15 Next >
